Subsection 3.10 Priority of Service

A. General Provision

The American Job Center (AJC) is the hub of CWP programs and services for Adults and Dislocated Workers, including WIOA-funded services. AJC services include screening, assessment and referral of all job-seekers to the appropriate career and training programs. These services are provided in accordance with WIOA priority of service requirements which identify specific groups of job seekers to be prioritized for individualized career services and training. The following policy and procedures implement the WIOA priority of service requirements within the context of CWP Guiding Principles for Service Delivery.

B. Definitions

Basic Skills Deficient: WIOA Section 3(5)(B) A youth or adult who is unable to compute or solve problems, or read, write, or speak English, at a level necessary to function on the job, in the individual's family, or in society. Defined by CWP as having a CASAS reading score of 235 or less and/or a CASAS math score of 235 or less.

Career Services Defined:

Informational and Self-Directed Basic Career Services: Informational and self-directed basic career services comprise the provision of general orientation to AJC customers on the services available within the AJC system, and assistance to customers who independently utilize the self-directed services available in the Career Resource Center; these include printed materials and access to online job search resources. When appropriate, Basic Career Services also include the provision of information regarding filing claims for unemployment compensation; these services are provided by CTDOL staff.

Staff-Assisted Basic Career Services: Staff-assisted basic career services are more substantial than the services provided to self-directed customers. The provision of staff-assisted basic career services includes services such as initial assessment of education level, work history, skills, interests, aptitudes to determine appropriate level of service, assistance with job search and placement, provision of information on nontraditional employment and in-demand occupations, resume development, facilitation of workshops including workshops on available training resources, and, when appropriate, the determination of eligibility for individualized career services and/or training services.

Individualized Career Services and Training Services: Individualized career services and training services are more intensive than the services defined as "Staff-Assisted Basic Career Services" and are specifically designed for customers who meet the priority of service criteria. The provision of individualized career services and training services includes comprehensive and specialized assessments and the development of an individual employment plan (IEP), group and/or individual career counseling and mentoring, career planning, short-term pre-vocational services, internships and work experience linked to careers, workforce preparation activities including online learning, financial literacy services, out-of-area job search and relocation assistance,
